

Joint Cost Schedule Analysis

We want to extend our appreciation to Troy Miller for coming to speak to us on Joint Cost Schedule Analysis. As well as give a big thank you to all those that joined in on this great topic. We are still looking for suggestions for topics as well as speakers for later in the year so please provide your feedback.

We hope topics such as this are helpful as we are trying to focus more on the theories and techniques used by practitioners rather than industry specific information.
